

Please leave the law alone in Indiana. It is nice having an evening that can be spent without annoying telephone calls from people trying to sell a product that we would not buy over the telephone and would never buy because of the sales tactics